New Programs to Prepare Elementary Teachers and Administrators Approved

SACRAMENTO—The Commission on Teacher Credentialing's Committee on Accreditation approved one new multiple subject internship program to prepare elementary teachers and one new alternative clear administrator preparation program at its January 15, 2009, meeting in Sacramento.

Additionally, the Committee acted to include all induction programs in the Commission's accreditation system as of July 1, 2009, and reviewed reports on revisits to Alliant University and CSU, Monterey Bay. Revisit reports can be viewed at:

New programs for prospective elementary teachers and administrators and are now available at the following universities:

- Mount St. Mary's College (Los Angeles, CA)—Multiple Subject Internship Credential Program
- Boston Reed (Napa, CA)—Alternative Clear Administrative Services Credential Program

Multiple Subject Credential programs prepare teachers to provide instruction in self-contained, typically K – 6, classroom settings. Administrator preparation programs train effective leaders to manage successfully in California's varied and diverse school communities. The Committee on Accreditation determined that these programs met all standards and preconditions and approved them for initial accreditation.
